INTRODUCTION

This work is by no means complete or exhaustive. It is only as its name indicates, "A Working Bibliography." However, because of the present interest in birth control, I found the need to compile this work. It is the hope of this compiler that this bibliography will help serious researchers locate additional sources. Moreover, because the topic of birth control is so broad one would have to research the following areas to get a more complete understanding of it: abortion, conception, prevention, eugenics, family size, hygiene, malthusianism, population, sexual ethics, fertility, sterilization, family planning, birth rate, maternal and child health planning, marriage, ovulation, parenthood, motherhood, reproduction.

I have omitted articles in journals and periodicals because there are too many for this Working Bibliography. Moreover, many of the books listed in this work have extensive bibliographies that include articles as well as books. Most of the books listed in this work can be found at public as well as college and university libraries. Therefore, these books are readily assessible to the general reader as well as the serious researcher.

In order to assist the researcher do a more thorough and comprehensive study of Birth Control I have also concluded BIBLIOGRAPHIES, ADDRESSES, ESSAYS, AND LECTURES, GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS, AND CONGRESSES.

Obviously, any work of this endeavor encompassed the assistance of many people and many hours. Therefore, it would be nearly impossible to name all persons that assisted in this monumental work, however, I must express special acknowledgement to the following: The Ohio State University Library, and the secretaries, Penny Martin, Judie Strain, Yolanda Robinson, Sylvia Noel and Pat Myles of the Department of Black Studies at The Ohio State University, and The Ohio State Universities Libraries. Without their assistance this work would not have been completed. I take full responsibility, however, for all errors. I also welcome any corrections of errors or omissions.
